Corrigendum to “Text message intervention improves objective sleep hours among adolescents: the moderating role of race-ethnicity” [Sleep Health 3 (2017) 62-67]

Royette Tavernier, PhD*, Jeff Kahn, MS, Jacob Kelter, BS, Leon Sasson, BS, Emma K. Adam, PhD

Northwestern University, School of Education and Social Policy, 2120 Campus Dr, Evanston, IL, 60208, U.S.A.

The authors regret that the names of Jeff Kahn, Jacob Kelter, and Leon Sasson were left out in the published version of the article. Jeff Kahn, Jacob Kelter, and Leon Sasson developed and pilot-tested the study’s intervention protocol prior to implementation with the sample used in our published article. These 3 authors also managed the text message protocol by generating and delivering the individualized text messages to participants in the intervention group.

The authors would like to apologize for any inconvenience caused.